

Food & Water Watch Climate and Energy Forum: Building A Movement for A Safe, Healthy And Just Future

Saturday, October 31, 2015 • 9am – 3pm
Ramapo College, Trustees Pavilion
505 Ramapo Valley Road, Mahwah, NJ 07430

HOSTS: Center for Sustainability at Ramapo College

SPONSORS: William and Deborah Brown

PARTNERS: 350.orgNJ, Burlington County Young Democrats, The Bus for Progress, Coalition to Ban Unsafe Oil Trains, Climate Mama, CURE, Don't Gas the Pinelands, Eastern Environmental Law Center, Franciscan Response to Fracking, Green Earth Ministry of the Morristown Unitarian Fellowship, The Mother's Project, NJ Sierra Club, NJ Industrial Union Council, North Jersey Pipeline Walkers, North Jersey Sierra Club, The Social Responsibilities of The Unitarian Society of Ridgewood, SJ 350.org, Sustainable Cherry Hill, WATERSPIRIT

The Food & Water Watch Climate and Energy Forum seeks to bridge the gap between local energy infrastructure fights and the larger movement to end fossil fuel dependence.

During a one-day forum with workshops, speakers, panels, trainings and skill sharing:

- Build skills to engage in all levels of grassroots organizing and critical climate and energy policy making
- Connect with people around the state to share best practices and enhance skills and knowledge
- Dig deeper into the inadequacies of our current policy options to combat climate change, and explore common sense and just policy solutions to our current crisis.

To Sign up text "NRGForum" to "69866" or go to: fwwat.ch/1KgAPQy

@FWWNewJersey

To learn more, contact Lena Smith, lsmith@fwwatch.org